The City of Longview Partners in Prevention is encouraging residents to have open and honest conversations during two upcoming World Café events about substance abuse on October 19. The World Café is a conversational process for hosting topics of conversation that matter. Participants will interact in small conversation where everyone has a voice.

The Coalition for Drug-Free Youth will host a World Café at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, October 19, 2010, at the Maude Cobb Activity Center, 100 Grand Blvd in the Eitelman Room. The goal of the café will be to talk about ways to reduce drug use in the community and to brainstorm solutions to mobilize and empower future dreams.

The event is free, but an RSVP is requested by calling Partners in Prevention at 903-237-1019.
